A Conversation with Mitchell Beazle

I recently had the opportunity to speak with Mitchell Beazle about his work and his new book. Here are some excerpts from our conversation:

Q: What is your favorite part of being a photographer?

A: I love the challenge of finding something new and different to photograph. I'm always looking for ways to see the world in a new way, and photography allows me to do that.

Q: What is the most important thing you've learned about photography?

A: The most important thing I've learned is that patience is key. Sometimes you have to wait for the perfect moment to take a photograph, and sometimes you have to be willing to go the extra mile to get the shot you want.

Q: What advice would you give to aspiring photographers?

A: Don't be afraid to experiment and find your own voice. There are no rules when it comes to photography, so don't be afraid to break them.
